Savannah Baptist Center, John & Dot Mooney Foundation, Tab Smith Ministry and Coastal Georgia Regional Water Council. Tom was loved by many individuals, as well as, being part of numerous organizations. To try and remember all accomplishments and organizations would be a futile effort. Just know Tom loved everyone and was proud to be a member of all his organizations.

He was a lover of history, especially passionate for the War of Southern Independence, genealogy, and Georgia Southern Football. He loved helping others and loved meeting new people. He never met a stranger and enjoyed being the center of attention. Most of all he loved his wife Piecake, his family and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Jessie Dolphus Edenfield and Dessie Olive Smith Edenfield, along with his brother, Jessie Dolphus Edenfield, Jr. Surviving are his wife, Lynda "Piecake" Edenfield of Savannah, Georgia, his sister, Nancy Margaret Kerves (John) of Savannah, Georgia; two sons, Tom A. Edenfield, Jr., of Savannah, Georgia, Bradford J. Edenfield, Sr. (Caroline) of Forsyth, Georgia, and a daughter, Michelle E. Davis (Gary) of Statesboro, Georgia, sister-in-law, Marion Summers (Hugh) of Tybee Island, Georgia, three step-children Ian W. Taylor (Zoe), Daniel I. Taylor (Alexandra), and Nathan E. Taylor, six grandchildren, Taylor Pittman, Andrew Pittman, III, Bradford Jack Edenfield, Jr., Anna Claire Edenfield, F.
